Subject: RE: Senate EPW QFRs from Oversight of EPA Hearing

Hi again – we just got another question on GLP that is ours.

Ex. 5 Deliberative Process (DP)

MAMPD/PWTB: 10. EPA has a premier audit and inspection program for Good Laboratory Practices (GLPs), recognized worldwide. However, EPA does not issue certificates of GLP compliance for laboratories, as other nations do, that would make it easier for many regulatory authorities in countries around the world to recognize the GLP credentials of regulatory studies conducted in the US. This places US contract research laboratories and US businesses at an economic and competitive disadvantage in seeking product marketing approvals in those countries and exporting their products and services. EPA has recently received additional funding from PRIA4 to enhance the GLP program. What specific changes to US regulations and/or legislation would be necessary to allow/require EPA to issue such GLP certificates? What changes could be made under President Trump's May 19, 2020 Executive Order 13924 on economic recovery from COVID-19 to accomplish this?"
